A divorce was granted to Mrs. Elizabeth I. B. McAtee yesterday from Judge John L. McAtee, associate ju supreme court of Oklahoma. ociate justice of the

It was probable the quietest and briefest divorce suit ever heard by Judge John W. Henry, of the circuit court. At 2 o'clock Mrs. McAtee, her lawyer, R. J. Ingraham; Judge McAtee's lawyer, D. B. Henderson and Mrs. McAtee's witnesses, J. Scott Harrison and Mrs. C. A. Carpenter, enter ed division 4, of the circuit court. Attor ney Ingraham whispered a few words to Judge Henry, who was then sitting as judge in another case. Judge Henry at once called a lawyer to sit in his place while he retired to his chambers with the McAtee party. At 2:10 p. m. the door to the chambers was opened and Mrs. Mc-Atee came out a single woman. She and her friends went straight from the courtroom to the carriages in waiting and drove away as quietly as they had come. The whole proceeding had not occupied more Judge McAtee was not present, and although his attorney was there no contest was made. The decree was granted by default on the simple charge of desertion. Mrs. McAtee, who was attired in a stylish suit of gray, was first asked a few tions. She answered that Judge McAtee had left her in January, 1898, and had abhad left her in January, 1888, and had absented himself from her ever since. J. Scott Harrison, who is a brother of ex-President Benjamin Harrison, testified to Mrs. McAtee's good reputation, as did Mrs. Carpenter. Another stylishly dressed woman, who accompanied the party, was not placed upon the witness stand.

In her petition for divorce Mrs. McAtee alleged that Judge McAtee had compelled her to stop at cheap hotels with him in Oklahoma, where the accommodations were poor and the food not prepared in a manner suitable to her. She also alleged non-support. An answer was filed by Judge McAtee denying these charges. He said they stopped at hotels together but twice and then it was in the best hotels in the cities in which they stopped and the finest suite of apartments was assigned to them. He claimed that Mrs. McAtee had deserted him and asked that the divorce be granted to him instead of to her. On second consideration, however. Judge McAtee decided to allow the divorce to go to Mrs. McAtee quietly by default. Mrs. McAtee owns an elegant residence at 1320 Troost avenue and has property valued at $50,000, that affords her an ample income. Mrs. McAtee was formerly the wife of the late Mr. Platt, a partner of J. Scott Harrison, in the real estate business. She resumed the name of Platt. sented himself from her ever since. J.

Two Cases in Criminal Court.

Two Cases in Criminal Court.

Judge Davis, of Marshall, held a short session of criminal court yesterday. Only two cases were called. The case of Eli Buckner, charged with feloniously wounding Presly Ryan, was called but the defendant failed to materialize and his bond for $150 was declared forfeited. William Lamb, charged with assault, who appealed his case from the police court of Lee's Summit, was called but after a brief hearing the judgment of the lower court was affirmed. The trial of Samuel Hey will be called in the criminal court to-day.

KESTER'S LONG SENTENCE. ian Who, the Police Say, Is Insane Given 300 Days in Workhouse. Frank Kester, who is in trouble nearly all the time when at large, was sentenced to 300 days in the workhouse yesterday morning by Judge Burnham. Kester tried to kill his wife and children Monday night and would probably have carried out his threats had it not been for the timely in-threats had it not been for the timely interference of neighbors.

Five or six months ago he went to the Christian church in Independence while services were in progress and attempted to drive the congregation from the house of worship. He has been arrested a number of times for assaulting his wife and children. He has been in the asylum at St. Joseph two or three different times and has been discharged as cured. The police say he is violently insane and that he is a dangerous man to be at large. Only a few days ago he stabbed his wife with a fork and seriously injured her. Judge Burnham sent him to the workhouse for safe keeping. If his condition grows worse he will probably be returned to the St. Joseph in sane asylum.

A conference was held with local committees on transportation and entertainment in parlor A of the Coates House at 2 p. m. At the close of the meeting all the officials were escorted to Convention hall, where they spent a half hour looking it over from arena to roof garden. They were all greatly pleased with its peculiar litness for the purpose of the head camp. The legislative body will occupy the spacious floor, each member to be provided with a separate desk. The sessions of the assembly will be attended by thousands of Modern Woodmen for whom the discussions and official acts will have great interest.

"The rullings of the head camp will directly affect more people than those of any other fraternal insurance organization," said Head Consul W. A. Northeott, as he stood beneath the colonnade balcony and gazed across the vast auditorium yesterday, "The next camp, which will occupy this hall, represents 400,000 people and in the disbursement of their money and in other acts it will, figuratively speaking, have the eyes of all these people upon it. It will give the members of the lodge from all parts of the country, who wish to attend, the first opportunity they have ever had to do so, surrounded by every comfort and convenience. The greatness of Kansas City and her auditorium and of their own order as well will be fixed in their memories after the session has closed.

"Thursday will be the great day and I am confident 100,000 visitors will be in the city to witness the parades and exercises and hear the addresses. We hope to have Governor Roosevelt, of New York, and Chauncey M. Depew here. To-day's conference was harmonious throughout and every detail has competent men to look after it."

The head camp central committee met last night in the Coates House. The committee found it necessary to ask all boarding houses and Woodmen who could accommodate visitors to notify C. J. Carroll, stating the number and price of rooms.

Mr. Carroll's address is 1224 McGee street.

The committee found that it would be necessary to raise $5,000 in addition to the amount already raised by the Woodmen, and sub-committees were appointed who will start out this morning to solicit among the merchants and business men.

Among the unique features in the parade will be a fat men's squad. D. I. Gessley will be captain of the fat men's division. No one weighing less than 200 pounds will be allowed to participate.

Mr. F. M. Cox has received over 100 communications from out of town, asking as to the conditions of participation in the parade.

Convention hall will be decorated in gorgeous colors, George H. Moore having the decoration in charge. He has received flattering encouragement from the merchants doing business on Walnut and Main streets. A great number will use the fixtures which made such a handsome display during Carnival week.

The Big May Sale

For 1899 Will Begin To-morrow.

Watch the advertisement in all the daily papers. We believe this will be the best opportunity ever offered for buying your spring merchandise. Our buyers have been careful to secure the best the market affords at the littlest prices, so that this alone will mean a sale where you can come and buy articles and wearing apparel at prices below the market value. We study to save you money and at the same time make a little for ourselves. To-morrow's big sale will fully demonstrate our ability for saving you money and giving you more to select from than in any previous May sale. Prepare for this; make arrangements to come to the greatest of all May sales. To-morrow will be the day.

NOTICE! We are now having demonstrations throughout the store the store. In the basement we are conducting a Cooking School, where you may learn how to make Angel Food Cake, Nut Cake, Sunshine Cake, Gold Cake and Fairy Cake, free of charge. On the Walnut street floor we are demonstrating Taylor's Improved Royal Walst and Skirt Supporter, which is superior to any on the market.

The new Hat Fastener is also being demonstrated on Walnut street floor—this is a unique, useful article, one that has been long needed.

On the Grand avenue floor, Art Needle Dept., we are demonstrating the Magic Stamping Pad. This is the most wonderful contrivance of its kind we have ever shown. It will reproduce any drawing, picture or initial from newspapers or magazines. You can stamp on glass, china, celluloid, velvet, plush, silk and all fabrics. See this to-day; it is the most useful article you can have for painting china or embroidering.

WILL MAKE SHOES HERE.

mportant Industry Will Be Established, Which Will Enlarge the Wholesale Market.

The announcement was made yesterday that Kansas City is to start into a new line of business, the manufacturing of shoes, and start in a way which will place her at once well up toward the lead of Western shoe manufacturing cities. The Kansas City Shoe Company is the name of the company which will be the first to manufacture shoes in Kansas City. It will be capitalized at $250,000 and the capital stock will be paid up and the organiza-tion legally completed by May 10. The

Robert M. Snyder, 250 shares.
Alphonso Favreau, 290 shares.
Charles S. Gill, 100 shares.
Turner A. Gill, 100 shares.
Webster Withers, 50 shares.
The shares are $100 each, so the above subscriptions make up $200,000 of the stock, the rest is practically taken and the promoters say they could just as readily have secured subscriptions for $500,000. The officers of the company are;
President—George A. Bond.
Vice president—Joseph A. Maynard.
Secretary and treasurer—Charles S. Gill.
Superintendent—A. Favreau.
Mr. Bond says that the idea was original with him. He was for a number of years a special salesman for the Brown Shoe Company, of St. Louis. Here he formed the acquaintance of A. Favreau, the thoroughly posted superintendent of that company, and Joe A. Maynard, another salesman. These three decided to embark in the shoe manufacturing business and for a time thought of opening in St. Louis, which is already quite a shoe manufacturing center. But Mr. Bond's two years' residence in Kansas City convinced him that this would be a good location, so they decided to make it a Kansas City institution and to let Kansas City capital, aside from their own, go into it. Every dollar of the subscriptions needed was unhesitatingly and quickly taken by Kansas City capitaliss.

tion and to let Kansas City capital, aside from their own, go into it. Every dollar of the subscriptions needed was unhesitatingly and quickly taken by Kansas City capitalists.

The securing of the stock supscriptions to the new company was largely the work of Charles S. Gill. In this he was aided greatly by the advice and work of President Dickey, Secretary Winsborough and other members of the Manufacturers' Association.

President Bond says the new factory will employ at the outset 500 hands and will turn out 1,000 to 1,500 pairs of shoes daily. This is about double the capacity of any of the St. Joseph factories and while it is only the starter for Kansas City there is every reason to believe that it will rapidly increase. Mr. Bond says the superintendent is one of the best men in the shoebusiness in this country and the new factory will make a specialty of high grade shoes, turning out the linest shoes made anywhere in the West. It will market the goods all the way from Dakota to Texas and the Pacific ocean and will everywhere spread the name of Kansas City as a shoe manufacturing center.

The location for the factory has not yet been decided upon. It is hoped to get it somewhere near the wholesale section of the city, to be convenient of access to merchants who come here to lay in a general line of goods. The company does not desire to creet the building itself, if one can be leased to suit, but the prospects are that whether it owns or leases the building it will be a new one erected especially for the company and of the latest and best design for shoe manufacturing purposes. Mr. Bond will leave for the East in a few days to purchase the machinery and it will be a new one erected especially for the manufacturing purposes. it will be a new one erected especially for the company and of the latest and best design for shoe manufacturing purposes. Mr. Bond will leave for the East in a few days to purchase the machinery and it will be the latest the market affords. The power used will probably be electricity, as being more economical, convenient and cleanly. All kinds and sizes of shoes will be manufactured for men, women and children. The securing of such a shoe factory is the first step in an important industry. Another very important result from the new enterprise will be the bettering of the Kansas City wholesale market. As one wholesale dry goods man said to a reporter for The Journal yesterday:

"Every additional enterprise of this kind makes the market larger and attracts more trade. I have no doubt if all the wholesale dry goods houses of St. Joseph were here in Kansas City, the resulting business would be much larger than the two towns now have. The more variety of goods can be shown the larger number of people will come to trade, feeling more certain that somewhere in the list they two towns now have. The more variety of goods can be shown the larger number of people will come to trade, feeling more certain that somewhere in the list they can be suited."

All the dry goods jobbers agree that a large shoe market in Kansas City would increase the dry goods trade. Merchants would come here for their stocks who now go to St. Louis or Chicago because they can have so many places there in which to select their shoe stock. So the dry goods men welcome the new factory with open arms. The shoe dealers are equally pleased. Several of them yesterday hastened to inform President Bond that they would buy largely from the new factory and a number of department stores did the same thing.

The new factory will be put in operation just as soon as plans and work can be matured. Kansas City gets the factory without a dollar of bonus. It is simply abusiness presposition. Managed by practical men and backed by men who see that it cannot fall, but be a good thing. No shoe factory in the country has better backing, none is better equipped and the new factory will be a source of pride to the people of Kansas City. Mr. Favreau, the superintendent, has just completed and moved into a $16,000 residence in St. Louis. He says he will sell that and move at once to Kansas City, so great is his confidence in the future of the city and of the new factory.
